

Cordell Christian Home's Resident's Digest

By Nicole Allen

Autumn is almost here again and our residents and staff are loving the changing of the seasons! Not only do we all get to look forward to the beautiful turning of the trees but we have also been experiencing some nice cool weather. Temperatures have been in the 70s and 80s and rain has been plentiful. We are all soaking up the nice cool breezes and becoming thankful that summer is over.

Fall will officially begin on Tuesday, September 22nd, but everyone at the Cordell Christian Home started celebrating weeks ago. Our birthday and monthly bulletin boards are decorated in brown, reds, and yellows, like the leaves of the changing trees and activity staff has been incorporating autumn into their activities and decorations. Residents have also been making it a point to get outside more often. They finally don't have to worry about getting too hot or too cold. It is just perfect!

The nice weather truly does give our residents more opportunities to go outside and enjoy the weather. So, if you have a loved one or a friend living at CCH, feel free to come on by and have a nice chat with them or even help them finish a crossword outside in the gazebo. Our residents have plenty of stories to share and crosswords to complete. So, come on by! We hope to see you soon!
